Subsequent to submission of the last activities report, [REDACTED] and I discussed at some length the question of whether or not the difference in quality between the sync-sound and the voice-over narration would be truly objectionable to viewing audiences. All three of us feel that this is too fine a picture and represents too much effort to have it spoiled by something that should and could be corrected.

Ch/ISB again conferred with sound technicians at [REDACTED] 25X1A5a1 in an attempt to analyze the quality change.

They were of the opinion that accoustical changes on the sound stage were responsible. Consequently, [REDACTED] 25X1A9a spent most of 18 October at [REDACTED] adjust 25X1A9a

ing the set and making tests. When it was felt that the quality closely matched the original sync-sound quality, we proceeded to re-record a good portion of the narration. [REDACTED] has listened to the re-recordings and has stated that they come so close to the originals that no change will be detected.

We feel that the time and effort was well spent. [REDACTED] 25X1A5a1 has been requested to finish the picture as soon as possible. Their best estimate at this time is 6-8 weeks hence.
